

The first weeks

Signs you might need to reach out for help

Tuning out / not noticing what's happening around you

Obsessively cleaning

Losing track of the time

Crying a lot

Not having the energy to complete daily tasks

Forgetting important things like paying bills

Drinking excessively or taking drugs

You stop talking with friends and family / become withdrawn

